New Specifications Effective for Some September Contracts

At least some of the contracts included in INDOT's September lettings show that the 2010 edition of the INDOT Standard Specifications will be effective for those contracts. The Contract Information Book for other contracts, however, still shows that the 2008 specifications will be effective. There is also an inconsistency on applicability of the standard drawings. Some contracts list that the effective drawings will be those included in the standard drawing index with an effective date of September 1, 2009 while others list the September 1, 2008 index.

Copies of the 2010 INDOT Standard Specifications can be purchased from ICA. The member price is $25 per book plus shipping costs. Non-members will pay $50 per book plus shipping. Click here for an order form, which may be returned by mail or fax.
