Indiana Construction Association Announces New Board Members

INDIANAPOLIS, IN -- Indiana Construction Association (ICA), the state's premier construction trade association, is pleased to announce the addition of six new members to its board of directors. The new members are Danny J. Bateman, Andrew F. Brooks, Thomas J. Bruns, Terry G. Greene, Gregory L. Henneke and Paul J. Tate.

Danny Bateman serves as president of ARC Construction Company, Inc. in Evansville. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in business from the University of Evansville and attended the Ball State University MBA program.

Andrew Brooks is the president of Brooks Construction Co., Inc. headquartered in Fort Wayne with branches in Goshen and Mishawaka. He is a graduate of DePauw University with a Bachelor of Science degree in economics.

Thomas Bruns is president/owner of Bruns-Gutzwiller, Inc. in Batesville. Tom is a graduate of Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology with a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering.

Terry Greene serves as president of GDH, LLC (Hagerman Construction Corporation) located in Fort Wayne and Indianapolis. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in civil engineering from the University of Illinois.

Gregory Henneke is the executive vice president for American Structurepoint, Inc. headquartered in Indianapolis with offices around the state. Greg received a bachelor's degree from Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology and an MBA from Indiana University.

Paul Tate serves as regional vice president of central Indiana for Goshen-based Rieth-Riley Construction Co., Inc. He attended the University of Cincinnati's College of Applied Science and majored in civil engineering technology and construction management.

"As successful business professionals and construction industry leaders, each member brings a unique and important perspective to the association. The addition of these members to ICA's board of directors ensures that the association continues to benefit from a diversity of knowledge and opinions," said ICA President Charles V. Kahl.
